Reserve Day

In case there is only one task flown, or only 600 points achieved, this Sunday is reserved for a further task.

Starting method: by foot only, from wooden ramp and/or meadow slope

Starting sequence: One class by another, determined by the task committee.

For the first task the international FAI-ranking list applies, with the first ten listed pilots in reversed order. For the following tasks the daily updated competition ranking applies, in the same manner.

Restart is possible, as long the starting window is open.

Headquarter: at landing site Bleibach/Gutach (tent)

Competition classes: FAI 1 and FAI 5, each for men and women

Meet director: Dieter Münchmeyer

Scorer: Willi Kuck

Jury: to be determined, will be announced before competition starts

Validity: Following the priority ranking:

1. This event information
2. DHV competition regulations
3. FAI sporting code

Participants qualifying

The number of pilots is limited to 80. Participants have to qualify according to the International FAI-ranking list. The organizer reserves the right to select 5 pilots.

Livetracking Use of GPS- livetrackers (preferred is the Flymaster tracker as flight results can be directly evaluated) is mandatory.

The trackers have to be brought by each pilot, who is responsible for proper operation during all flights. DHV has 40 trackers for renting. Please contact Regina from DHV. regina.glas@dhvmail.de.

Documentation The tracklogs of the flights are evaluated via the livetrackers. If those data are insufficient, alternatively the records of other GPS-devices (must include altitude) will be evaluated. (Cables for download to be brought by the pilots, back up-devices are strongly recommended).

Evaluation software GPSdump, FS-Comp. Holders of instruments not readable by GPSdump may bring their own igc-files with valid G-record.

Comp-formula latest GAP-formula, settings acc. to competition regulations
